

Black spot strikes

An accident on the roads between Napier and Hastings is fast becoming routine for emergency services.

Pictures: Kerry Marshall

This prang in early June was minor, but there have been numerous more serious crashes in recent months in the Hawke's Bay, including a fatal crash at Te Aute and a Napier crash involving a number of teens in a souped-up car. It was chillingly reminiscent of the multiple fatality crash last year that highlighted the bad driving culture in the Bay.